

MORE AFFORDABLE COLLEGE DEGREES.

SAVE MONEY. GRADUATE SOONER.

Governor Abbott is making college more affordable and helping students start their career sooner.

His plan will cut the cost of summer courses that count toward a student's bachelor degree, helping students graduate sooner and save money along the way.

Under Governor Abbott's plan, undergraduate students at Texas public colleges and universities will receive:

- $500 off tuition and fees when taking 1–5 credit hours during the summer.
- $1,000 off tuition and fees when taking 6 or more credit hours during the summer.

Lower-cost summer courses mean students can make faster progress toward graduation while spending less on summer tuition. By graduating sooner, students can also save on housing and other college expenses.

LOWER COSTS. BRIGHTER FUTURES.

MORE AFFORDABLE COLLEGE DEGREES.

GRADUATE SOONER. START EARNING FASTER.

The cost of a college degree goes beyond tuition. Every additional year means more tuition, fees, housing, and living expenses - and more time before students can begin their careers.

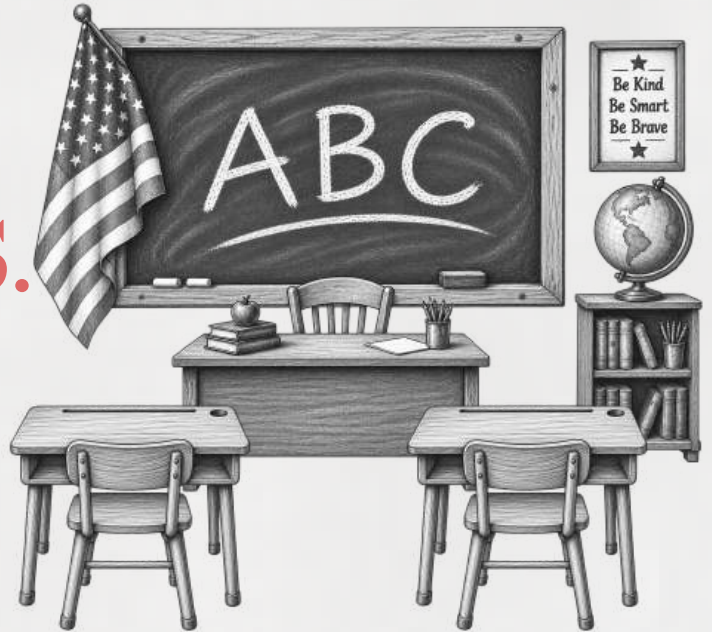

Governor Abbott's plan will give Texas students the option to earn certain bachelor's degrees in three years instead of four. Texas public universities will be required to offer accelerated 90 credit-hour degree programs in high-demand, high-paying fields.

Graduating a year sooner could save students $15,000 to $35,000 in tuition and living expenses and allow them to start earning a living sooner.

SAVE A YEAR. SAVE THOUSANDS. START YOUR CAREER SOONER.

BETTER CLASSROOMS. BRIGHTER FUTURES.

MAKE TEXAS #1 IN READING AND MATH

Every Texas student should have the foundational reading and math skills they need to succeed. Governor Abbott has created new math and reading supports and invested over $600 million to help struggling students perform on grade-level. Now, Governor Abbott is calling for these tools to be implemented through newly developed Student Success Academies within public schools. These Academies will offer dedicated reading and math pathways to identify students who are struggling, provide targeted support to help them get back on grade level, and give parents clear, easy-to-understand roadmaps of their child's progress toward proficiency. In addition, parents must be provided at home education plans to provide families with tools and resources to reinforce learning at home.

Reading and math are the foundation of a child's education, and strong supports in the classroom and at home ensure a child's success.

BETTER READING. BETTER MATH. BETTER STUDENT OUTCOMES.

LIMIT CLASSROOM SCREEN TIME

SCREENS SHOULD SUPPORT LEARNING. NOT HINDER IT.

Research shows that excessive screen time in the classroom hinders student learning and academic achievement.

Governor Abbott's plan will limit the use of laptops, tablets, and other 1-to-1 devices in classrooms, especially for our youngest learners. It will put greater emphasis on physical materials, handwriting, and direct teacher instruction.

Technology should be used intentionally for specific lessons, individualized learning plans, assessments, and required accommodations, not as a substitute for teachers or proven methods of learning.

LESS SCREEN TIME. IMPROVED LEARNING.

BETTER CLASSROOMS. BRIGHTER FUTURES.

PRIORITIZE FUNDING FOR CLASSROOMS, NOT BUREAUCRATS.

Texas has made historic investments in public education, including $90 billion last session. Those dollars should be prioritized in the classroom - for students and teachers - not excessive bureaucracy and administrative bloat.

Governor Abbott's plan will dedicate 70% of funding for the classroom and require audits of school districts to eliminate excessive administrative costs, wasteful contracts, and fraud. The plan will also cut unnecessary administrative requirements that take time and resources away from teachers and students.

The goal is simple: Spend more education dollars in the classroom where they belong, and less on bureaucracy.

STUDENTS AND TEACHERS BEFORE BUREAUCRATS.

PROTECT TEXAS STUDENTS

ZERO TOLERANCE FOR SEX OFFENDERS: PROTECT STUDENTS. PUNISH PREDATORS.

Texas schools should be safe places for students to learn and grow. Any teacher or school staff who sexually abuses a student should be put behind bars. Governor Abbott's proposal will increase criminal penalties so individuals convicted of an improper relationship with a student are required to register as a sex offender and serve a minimum of ten years in prison. Additionally, anyone convicted of this offense will not be eligible for community supervision, deferred adjudication, parole, or mandatory supervision before those ten years in prison are served.

PREDATORS BELONG IN PRISON. NOT SCHOOLS.

BETTER CLASSROOMS. BRIGHTER FUTURES.

STOPPING FOREIGN INFLUENCE IN TEXAS CLASSROOMS

Foreign governments and the entities they own, fund, or act through should have zero influence over Texas public education. Governor Abbott's plan will ensure foreign entities cannot use gifts, partnerships, or other financial agreements to gain influence over Texas schools or what Texas children are taught in the classroom.

The plan also prohibits Texas public schools from employing workers through the H-1B visa program, ensuring Texas public school jobs go to Texans.
